
What is the pressure rating of the knitted reactor coils (KRC) used with the HPLC post column reactor?

The knitted reactor coils are rated to hold 300 psig. After time and extended use, this rating may be significantly reduced.

Click here for ordering Information for the post column reactor